

Roger (II) (iii) de Tosny.

c.1104 – September 1157x62

Father: Ralph (III)(iv) de Tosny (1078 – 1125)

Mother: Alice (Adeliza) of Huntingdon (1085 – 1126)

Spouse: Ida of Hainault (1109 – 1162)

Children:

1. Ralph (IV)(v) de Tosny (1124 – 1162).
2. Godeheut de Tosny (1130 – 1186).
3. Baldwin de Tosny (1134 – 1170).
4. Roger de Tosny (1135 – 1185).
5. Goda de Tosny (1136 - ? ).
6. Geoffrey de Tosny (1136 – 1170).

It is recorded that there were five hermitages within the Forest of Conches. At one of these hermitages – that at Lierru – Roger (I) de Tosny, seigneur of Conches, founded an Augustinian priory dedicated, like Conches abbey, to St Pierre and St Paul.

Roger (II)(iii) de Tosny and his father Ralph (III)(iv) de Tosny, accorded the fathers of the priory many privileges within the Forest of Breteuil.<sup>1</sup>

In 1136, Roger (II)(iii) de Tosny is known to have burned the church of Saint-Étienne-du-Vauvray.<sup>2</sup>

On 9th July 1138, Roger reduced the town of Breteuil to ashes.

Between April and December 1154 Roger is supposed to have been with Henry II, duke of Normandy, at the priory of Lierru.<sup>3</sup>

---

<sup>1</sup> Charpillon 1879, 812.

<sup>2</sup> Charpillon 1879, 777.

<sup>3</sup> Henry landed in England on 8 December 1154, to claim the throne.