1226 (5 May) Bishop Andrew confirms the eight prebends created by Bp. Bricius. He also states that the prebend of Strathouen belongs to the Chancellor; the prebend of Fothervais, a simple canonry, is to be 'pro tempore' the bishop's prebend, giving him a place in the Chapter. The prebends are listed 'in order': Rynyn {Rhynie}; Dunbanan & Kynnoir; Innerketheny; Elchy & Buttharry; Moy; Cromdol & Aduyn. He then defines the prebend of the Dean to be the altarage of Eren {Auldearn}; "necnon" the chapel of Invernarren {Nairn} which he has assigned to the subdean along with the church of Dolays Mychel {Dallas} with its manse and croft. He creates a prebend for the succentor (at the supplication of Richard the precentor) out of the church of Rathed, saving four marks annually which are to be the precentor's, and annexes the church of Fothervais. He confirms Walter de Moravia to be the patron of the new prebends of Petty & Brachlie and Botriphne & Aberlour. The canons are to have the same rights as those enjoyed by the canons of Lincoln. Enacted at the Synod held in the church of St Egidii {St Giles}, abbot, in Elgin, 5 May, 1226. (Reg.
