Patrick	William, son of Parson	1187		Registrum Episcopatus Moraviensis	44
1187 x 1203 (15 March) - Richard (de Lincoln), bishop of Moray, for Patrick, son of William (persona of Abernethy); has given him the church of Abernethy, reserving episcopal dues, also has granted his land, namely half a dabhach which belongs to that church, to be held for life, rendering to the bishop from it, 3s. at Martinmas. [SEA, I, no. 112]
William	Brymay, de Vicar	1431		Calendar of Scottish Supplications to Rome 1428-1432 [CSSR, iii	170
March/April, 1431 William de Brymay, priest, Moray diocese, - that Pope would provide him to vicarages of Abirnethy and Enralayne, Moray diocese (£8 sterling), void because Thomas de Fordice held them against Constitution 'Execrabilis' for three years and more without apostolic dispensation, and would dispense him to hold said vicarages (which are of little value) together for life, with power of exchange. Concessum ut petitur in presencia d.n. Pope. G.Cons. [Crossed through and undated, and no reason given. Probably March or April, anno 1.]

Thomas Fordyce, de	Vicar	1432		Calendar of Scottish Supplications to Rome 1428-1432 [CSSR, iii	205
9 January, 1432 Privatio In city of Moray (Moravien) near the cathedral church there is a poor's hospital called 'Domus Dei', which by fault of rector has been for a long time almost totally destroyed, and rents and profits are taken up by master John de Camera, priest, who has been required for several years by bishop and some notable citizens to reform said hospital or 'Domus Dei' from goods of same; but he has neglected to reform it, takes up all rents and profits and does not look after the poor. He has totally converted the fruits to his own uses and keeps no hospitality, since he lives more than 30 miles away (cum moram trahat longe a tringinta militaris et ultra), and he renders no account, as he ought to do every year. May Pope give mandate to bishop of Moray and abbot of Paisley, O.Clun., that, if they find the foregoing to be true, they deprive John de Camera from the management and from receipt of fruits, and collate and assign the same to Thomas de Fordyse, priest and dean of christianity and vicar of Abernothy and Inneralyan and grant it in commend - since he is ready to repair the same (£10 sterling) and look after (recolligere) the poor therein: notwithstanding whatsoever exchanges, conventions, pacts or contracts made by John de Camera with whatsoever persons to detriment of said hospital. Concessum ut petitur si non redierit post monitionem in presentia d.n. Pape. B.Graden. Rome, St Peter's, 5 Id. Jan., anno 1.
